

ABSTRACT

Methods useful in constructing libraries that collectively display and/or express members of diverse families of peptides, polypeptides or proteins and the 5 libraries produced using those methods. Methods of screening those libraries and the peptides, polypeptides or proteins identified by such screens.